United Press International

COVER STORY — Michigan State University admitted that an aid mission it operated in South Vietnam was used as a front by the CIA during the regime of Ngo Dinh Diem. MSU made the admission after publication of an article in the liberal magazine "Ramparts," whose April cover depicts Madame Nhu, Diem's sister-in-law, as an MSU cheerleader.